PUZZLE BOX

Behold, the ancient puzzle box of the dread wizard Mordecai, a relic steeped in shadow and whispered legend. Long ago, Death presented him with this very box, its secrets locked away within twisting corridors of the arcane.

Now, the same box sits before you, its wood worn and darkened by time, its whispers beckoning you to test your wits. But heed this warning, for the hourglass is cruel—only 60 minutes shall you have to follow in Mordecai's footsteps.

Dare you accept this challenge? Multiple boxes await, so gather your fellow seekers and face the puzzle head to head. The choice is yours—will you unlock the box, or will Death have his due?

Before you lies his legacy—a chest brimming with monster-hunting tools, grim trophies, and the tattered journals of a man who walked the line between life and death.

Within your private booth, the table itself is your ally, filled with secrets and shadows. You have but 60 minutes to delve into Ravenwood's past, to piece together the weapons of his trade, and uncover the mystery that led to his doom.
